Wath CofE Primary School History Assessment

Year 6

Themes: A study of an aspect or theme in British history that extends pupils' chronological knowledge beyond 1066

Areas of Learning	Expected outcomes:	Pupil notes: W or G
Chronology	Continue to develop a chronologically secure knowledge and understanding of British, local and world history. Establish clear narratives within and across periods studied. Note connections, contrasts and trends overtime. Can differentiate within a longer period e.g. Roman, Saxon and Viking Can talk about three periods of time Can use dates and specific terms confidently to establish period detail. Can match simple iconic images to each of the periods studied. Can make links between more than two periods of history, comparing and spotting similarities and differences.
Similarities and Difference	Describe social, cultural, religious and ethnic diversity in Britain and the wider world.
Change (and continuity)	Describe and make links between main events, situations and changes within and across different periods and societies. Understands that some changes are more significant than others. Understands some changes are called a revolution because of the scale and widespread nature. Understands some changes are relatively slow to happen whereas others happen very rapidly. Understands what is meant by a 'turning point'. Understands that not all changes are welcome.

	Sees that some changes have a consequence and lead to others
Causation (and	Identify and give reasons for, results of, historical events, situations and changes.
consequence)	Understands that events usually happen for a combination of reasons, even thought there is still some element of listing.
	Begins to explain rather than list.
	Understands that causes might be connected in some way.
	Begins to be able to explain quite complex events using a good range of causes, some of them linked in some way.
Significance	Make links between significant events, people and places.
	Be able to explain why they are linked and determine similarities and differences in their significance.
Interpretation	Understand that different versions of the past may exist, giving some reason for this.
	Children realise that history is continuously being rewritten.
	Children understand that people create different versions of the past for different audiences and therefore may have a different emphasis.
	Children know that some versions are more reliable and accurate than others and can suggest why.
	Children know that all history is to some extent interpretations and see why some people may write different versions of the same event.
Evidence Using Enquiry	Children see that some sources are more useful than others and can say why.
	Children begin to question what the evidence tells us.
	Children start to think of reasons why a source might be reliable or unreliable.
	Children start to think about the worthiness of a source by reference to what is known about it; a sources validity.

	Children can offer substantial reasons why some sources cautiously e.g. propaganda	might be treated
	Shows awareness of why a source may have been produ	ced.
Communicating Historically about the	Regularly address and devise historically valid questions.
past	Construct informed responses to enquiry questions by some relevant historical information. Create relevant, structured and evidentially supported and use historical terms and concepts to communicate about	ccounts of the past.
